

OVER IN CAMDEN

* The fund of the Citizens' Relief Association passed the $2000 mark yesterday.

* Robert R. Longland, of 224 Cooper street, for many years organist at the Tabernacle M. E. Church, died yesterday.

* The Women's Park Association and the Camden Day Nursery will divide $455 00 as the profits of the recent charity ball.

* The War Veterans' Association, No. 1, has abandoned its proposed trip to Washington to attend the inauguration of President-elect McKinley.

* A valentine party was given last evening by the Young Women's Christian Temperance Union at the home of Mrs. Charles Reade Bacon, 545 Penn street.

* Articles of incorporation were filed in the County Clerk's office yesterday by the Guarantors Electrical Company. Its capital stock is $1,000,000, of which $2000 is said to be paid in.

* Theodore Cox was held in bail by Justice Schmitz yesterday, charged by Mr. and Mrs. W. F. Millett with assault and battery and mayhem. All the parties reside at 1118 Carpenter street.

* Fire broke out in some rubbish in the cellar of the Mt. Vernon School (colored), on Mt. Vernon street above Broadway, yesterday. The damage amounts to $500, covered by insurance.

* Frank Fletcher was committed to jail by Mayor Westcott for failing to return $5 which Mrs. Mary E. Hewitt gave him to be changed, after purchasing a pound of butter from him.

* Counsel for Dempsey Butler, against whom a verdict of $1000 was given at the September term of court in an action for libel, was granted a rule to show cause yesterday by Justice Garrison why a new trial should not be allowed.

* Samuel Fenner has resigned as superintendent of the Camden and Suburban Railroad Company, and Frank A. Hewitt will succeed him on March 1. Hewitt, who is now dispatcher at the Market street ferry, was formerly a motorman.

* Justice Garrison reserved decision yesterday on an application to compel the bondsmen of George E. King, Gloucester City's defaulting Treasurer, to pay experts' fees and costs, in the recent suit in which a verdict was rendered against them for the amount of King's shortage. The defendants offered to pay one-half the fees and costs.