

NEW JERSEY NUGGETS.

West Jersey Game Society—A Justice in Trouble—Clerk Morgan's Case, Etc.

Rev. Mr. Bronson, who was to have entered formally upon his duties as pastor of the First Presbyterian Church of Camden last Sunday, was unable to do so at that time, but was present at a meeting held last night, and will henceforth continue to officiate in the above capacity.

The Democrats of Gloucester City and Wrightsville, on the outskirts of Camden, had mass meetings and banner raisings last evening.

A horse and wagon belonging to Henry Young, of Pitman Grove, was struck yesterday morning by a train on the West Jersey Railroad, at Brown's crossing, just below Gloucester City, the horse being killed and the wagon smashed. Young, who was driving, was not injured.

Ada Lippincott, a three-year-old daughter of Benjamin Lippincott, of No. 574 Division street, was fatally burned yesterday morning. Her clothing took fire from some matches which she found about the house and played with during her mother's absence.

Building which was very lively in Camden at the opening of the season is now slack.

Winfield H. Cramer, of No. 809 Kirker street, fell from a scaffold, while painting on North Second street, spraining his ankle and bruising his arm and side.

The fire which broke out near the cranberry bogs at Waterford, on Tuesday night, was subdued before it reached the bogs.

The work on the new armory of the Sixth Regiment is being rapidly pushed to completion.

Deputy County Clerk H. B. Morgan waived a hearing before Justice Spencer Darr last evening, and was held in the sum of $900 for trial on the charge of threatening Joseph Wagner with a revolver on Kaligna's avenue last Wednesday evening.

The yacht Sea Foam was sold under chattel mortgage yesterday for $1150. It is said to have cost $18,000.

Dr. Franklin Grant, of Burlington, was yesterday nominated for Congress by the Democrats of the Second Congressional district in convention at Burlington.

Samuelson Chew, proprietor of the West Jersey Press, denies that he will compel the Sixth Regiment, N. G. N. J., to leave their present quarters before their new armory is completed.

Peter Gelbler, the insane man who, on Tuesday, was taken to the City Hall, was conveyed to the county insane asylum yesterday.

A horse and buggy were stolen yesterday from J. J. Ackley, of Liner, and at the latest accounts had not been recovered.

Albert Beckett, justice of the peace of the Seventh ward, pleaded not guilty before Mayor Braley last evening to the charge of obtaining illegal fees from Mrs. Catherine Thomas, who claimed to have been arrested on the charge of keeping a disorderly house. After a hearing the justice was held to answer in the sum of $300, the testimony showing that he had imposed and collected a fee, when the case should have been sent before the grand jury.

Edward Harris, of the Seventh ward, was arrested and locked up at the City Hall last night for assault and battery on his wife.

The West Jersey Game Protective Association held its eleventh annual meeting last evening at Hellenmann's Hall. Charles H. Barnard, the secretary, reported as follows: Cash balance, $911.42, receipts, $2177.21. Total, $3118.63, expenditures, $2070.01; balance on hand, $1347.98.

A committee was appointed to audit the report, after which the following directors were elected for the ensuing year: William Eisenbrown, Philadelphia; John H. McMurray, Camden county; Samuel Reeves, Gloucester county; William Riley, Atlantic county; L. N. Foster, Cape May county; Jeremiah Watson, Salem county; J. H. Avis, Cumberland county. The officers were then chosen as follows: President—William Eisenbrown; Treasurer—George B. Taylor; Secretary—Charles H. Barnard. Quail and other game were reported as plentiful in the various counties.
