

Genther—Jaeckel

In a Camden parlor prettily decorated with many garlands of cut flowers and smilax, Miss Florence M. Jaeckel, of Camden, and Frederick Genther, of Philadelphia, were married last night. The ceremony was performed by Rev. Dr. A. G. Lawson, of the North Baptist Church, at 136 York street, the residence of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. William F. Jaeckel. The bridesmaids were Miss Katie Jaeckel and Miss Lula Paul. The matron of honor was Mrs. Edith Lough, of Philadelphia. Harry Genther, of Philadelphia, and Joseph Irons were the groomsmen. The ribbon girls were the Misses Mamie Jaeckel, May Genther, Mary Hawks and Louise Hawks. Following the wedding there was a reception. Mr. and Mrs. Genther will reside on Linden street, above Fourth.
