

Ford May Seek New Trial

Before being taken to Trenton yesterday to await electrocution for the murder of Mrs. May Effie Wagner, Charles Ford summoned his counsel to the Camden county jail to discuss the advisability of applying for a new trial. Although Ford's view that the evidence did not warrant the death penalty is not general, the doomed slayer left for Trenton under the impression that a further effort will be made to save his life. He will be put to death during the week of November 24.
